PRESIDENT TO BE ASKED TO ACT IN STEEL DISPUTE

Labor Committee Will Request Him to Intervene in an Effort to Prevent a General Strike.

SAYS GARY IS TRYING TO FORCE THE ISSUE

Declares Corporation Would Proceed Without Giving Wilson Chance to Consider Merits of Controversy.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—President Wilson is to be asked to take a hand in the controversy between the steel workers and the United States Steel Corporation in an effort to prevent a general strike.

This announcement was made today by the committee of the steel workers, who charged that the steel corporation was trying to force the issue before the President could have an opportunity to pass upon the merits of the controversy.

In a telegram to the union of steel workers at Gary, Ind., the committee said the workers were not to strike "under any circumstances" until the strike date had been set by the committee. The Gary union had telegraphed that the steel workers were being discriminated against and "discharged wholesale for the purpose of forcing a strike."

Telegram to Gary Men. The telegram addressed to James Maholand, secretary of the Gary Allied Iron and Steel Workers' Council, follows: "Your telegram received stating that steel workers are being discriminated against and discharged wholesale for the purpose of forcing a strike. The steel companies are doing the same in many other places. But in spite of this persecution try to hold men at work until all suitable means of settlement have been exhausted."

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor is negotiating for a conference with President Wilson today. The steel companies show by their actions a determination to force the issue before the President has had chance to pass on merits of controversy. We are doing all possible to secure justice for the men and to prevent the national disaster of a general strike in the steel industry. Do not strike under any circumstances until by your committee."

The steel workers have sought conferences with officials of the steel corporation to discuss wages, hours, working conditions and collective bargaining, but that their efforts to obtain such conferences have been unsuccessful.

NOW IN LONDON LOOKING FOR KINKS IN SOCIAL MACHINERY

"Hobo Millionaire" to Speak on Rusk at Oxford and Attend Labor Congress in Glasgow.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—J. Eads How, "the millionaire hobo" of St. Louis, is in London after a tour of the continent on a still hunt for kinks in the world's machinery which needs straightening out. He is wearing his blue dress shirt and heavy serge suit and the same mild and benevolent smile. He said he had met many interesting people on the continent, including Ramsay MacDonald, and that the British authorities took away some of his papers when he landed at Southampton. He expects to get them back as they tied them up in a neat parcel with strong tape so that they might be well preserved. He chuckled over a joke which he says the port authorities played on themselves.

"The one thing over which they got very excited," he said, "was a report of the American Federation of Labor. You see what it is! It prints in Spanish. I don't think they are very good Spanish scholars and so they grabbed it quick. Then the military captain took me to a room, locked the door, and said: 'Now Mr. How you are an educated man. You know whatever you are going to do will neither mean good or harm to this country. How much harm do you expect you will do on this visit to England?'"

"Well, I told him, 'I shall do precisely the same amount of harm here as would be done by Jesus of Nazareth if he were here instead of me.' How expects to speak on Rusk at Oxford and later attend a labor congress in Glasgow. He is particularly interested in the problem of the education of workers. Financial interests are fast merging in an international respect, he said, and therefore the workers must internationalize their interests.

CALLS UP MAYOR AT 2 A. M. TO ASK FOR MORE WAGES

Representative of Waterworks Employees Wouldn't Believe It Was Kiel Talking.

The Efficiency Board yesterday told James B. Conroy, representing firemen, oilers and coal passers employed at the city waterworks, that if he could show that $180 a month for firemen and oilers and $125 for coal passers was the prevailing wage for that work in St. Louis, the city would grant the demands of its employees for that wage. Conroy departed.

Today at 2 a. m., Mayor Kiel was called from his bed by a ring of his telephone and a voice which he said he recognized as Conroy's inquired for the Mayor. He was told that the Mayor was talking, but answered: "Don't kid me, I know the Mayor's voice."

The Mayor said he spent 15 minutes trying to convince Conroy he was the Mayor and then gave it up. After he reached his office he said that Water Commissioner Wall told him that Conroy called him at 2:30 a. m. and told him that he was not satisfied with "that business this afternoon" and would call the men on strike.

"That would be a crime," Wall said he replied. "This isn't Commissioner Wall," Conroy said. "He wouldn't talk to me like that." Wall said he spent several minutes establishing his identity and when he succeeded, Conroy suggested that "We go to bed and sleep on it." Wall said he went to bed.

NEW CITY ORDINANCE CREATES BIG DEMAND FOR PAINTERS

Firms Say They Cannot Find Enough to Place Names on All Business Vehicles by Sept. 14.

Persons and firms owning vehicles used in business are wondering where enough painters can be found to enable them to comply with the provisions of an ordinance recently enacted, providing that the name and address of the owner must be painted on each vehicle after Sept. 14. Some of them insist there are not enough painters in St. Louis to do the job by then, if they all did nothing else in the meantime.

The ordinance includes all vehicles used for commercial purposes, from the heaviest motor truck down to paper carriers' carts. It includes the city salesman's runabout, and the ragman's wagon. The purpose of the ordinance is to identify the owners in case of accident, and aid in identifying robbers who use stolen machines. The letters must be at least three inches high, and in a prominent place.

"I hope the newspapers," he said, "will without any act of Congress decline absolutely to print this story of the German General largely responsible for the kind of warfare conducted by Germany."

"Too, trust it will not be done," interjected Senator Lodge, Republican, of Massachusetts.

DENVER DETECTIVE, HEAD OF DRY SQUAD, ASSASSINATED AT HOME

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 29.—George Klein, a city detective, died today from wounds inflicted by an unknown assailant late last night.

Klein was head of Denver's prohibition squad and has been actively engaged in running down illicit liquor dealers since the State went dry. In a statement Klein said he did not know who fired upon him. The slayer had hidden in front of the detective's home. When Klein returned from work at 1 o'clock this morning the assailant killed him with a sawed-off shotgun.

PLANS FOR WILSON'S RECEPTION HERE EXCLUDE POLITICS

Board of Directors of Chamber of Commerce to Name Democrats and Republicans on Committees.

ORGANIZED LABOR TO BE REPRESENTED

Committee of Women to Arrange Plans for Mrs. Wilson—President to Talk at Coliseum Next Friday.

Arrangements for a city-wide non-partisan reception to President Wilson when he visits St. Louis next Friday on his coast-to-coast speaking tour on the league of nations and the domestic economic problems, will be decided upon at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon.

It is the purpose of the chamber to eliminate any semblance of politics from the arrangements, it being proposed to have both Democrats and Republicans on the reception committee, which, it is expected, W. F. Carter, acting president of the chamber in the absence from the city of President Jackson Johnson, will name during the afternoon.

Leaders of organized labor will be included in the membership. To provide a proper reception to Mrs. Wilson, a committee of women will be named.

Expected Here Friday Morning. Definite information as to the exact time of the President's arrival in St. Louis and the time of his departure had not been learned this morning, but officers of the chamber were expecting to hear from James E. Smith, who was in the East and who went to Washington last night to consult Joseph Tumulty, the President's secretary, regarding the President's wishes as to entertainment here.

News dispatches from Washington contained the information that the President would be in St. Louis all of Friday, his train arriving early in the morning, and departing in the evening for Kansas City, where he speaks Saturday. The President probably will not leave his train in St. Louis until about 10 a. m.

The President will come to St. Louis from Indianapolis, where he speaks Thursday evening. His first address on the trip will be in Columbus, O., earlier in the day. To speak at Coliseum. Although without definite information, officers of the chamber are of the opinion that the President will prefer to have breakfast on his car, luncheon at Hotel Statler at noon. Tentative arrangements for a luncheon at the Statler at noon. It is probable there will be no arrangements for the afternoon, that being set aside for the President to rest. It is proposed to have a private dining room at the Statler at noon. The President will be accompanied by the Reception Committee, in the evening, after which the plans are for the President to speak at the Coliseum.

Late in June the President, by cable from France, accepted an invitation, presented to Secretary Tumulty by Smith, for the President to speak in St. Louis July 4, but these arrangements were abandoned when it was found that the President could not return to this country by that time. There has been an understanding since then between Tumulty and officers of the chamber that when the President came west he would visit St. Louis and would be the guest of the chamber.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN CLOTHING IF TAILORS GET WAGE INCREASE

Merchant Tailors Say Prices Will Be 25 to 40 Per Cent Higher Should Union Win Demands.

An increase in the price of tailor-made clothing of from 25 to 40 per cent will be necessary if the demands of the journeymen tailors' union are granted, officers of the Merchant Tailors' Association said today. The proposed change in pay for the cost of living and labor today. The proposed change in pay for the cost of living and labor today. The proposed change in pay for the cost of living and labor today.

A tailored suit that is now $40 would be about $50 if the journeymen's proposed scale goes into effect, the employers say. One of them asserted that such an increase would virtually drive merchant tailors out of business, as customers would stop buying tailored clothing at such prices. Women's clothing, as well as men's, is included.

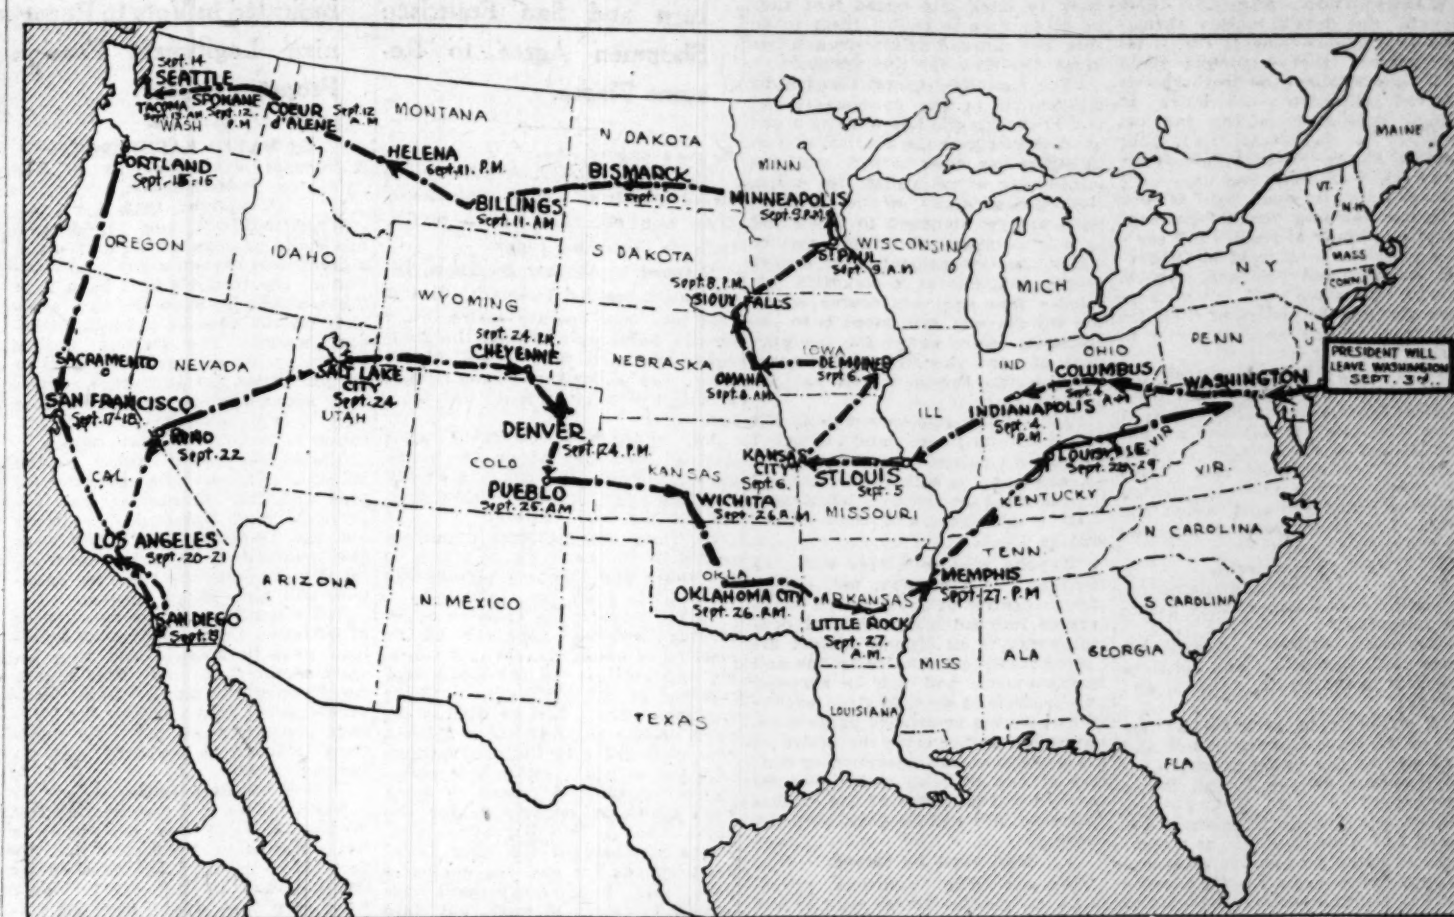

The journeymen tailors now work by the piece, doing much of the work at home. They propose an 8-hour day, with a minimum wage of 75 cents an hour. Both sides say the weekly wage would total about the same, but that working hours would be shorter, and the amount of work done would be much less.

The President and his party will arrive about 11 a. m. and depart at 1 p. m. The President will speak in Memorial Hall.

Sept. 28 and 29, Louisville. Representative Roderberg, Republican of Illinois, introduced a resolution today proposing that Congress declare that "the President should postpone his proposed tour of the country at least until such time as we may know definitely the problems which confront us growing out of the country's industrial situation and the cost of living problems."

The resolution said the railroad and labor situation generally "indicates the necessity for immediate steps to bring capital and labor together for a better understanding; that Congress would soon adopt the President's suggestions to combat the cost of living and that renewed absence of the President at this time when his signature is required to place in effect measures adopted by Congress to reduce the high cost of living would occasion serious delay in solving this vital problem."

The resolution went over without debate. Speech in Columbus to be delivered about noon. ## R. ASKS THAT INCREASED FARES BEGIN ON MONDAY

Attorney Says on Completion of Testimony Company Otherwise Cannot Meet Higher Wage Order.

POSITIVE 6 CENTS IS HIGH ENOUGH

City Consulting Engineer Declares System Can Meet Obligations and Show Profit at Present Rate.

Testimony before the Missouri Public Service Commission, in the application of Receiver Wells of the United Railways for permission to charge a 10-cent cash fare or 7 1/2-cent ticket fare, was completed last night. The testimony was given by the city consulting engineer, who declared the system could meet its obligations and show a profit at the present rate.

Francis F. Francis, general attorney for the company, urged the commission to issue an order for the increased fares by tomorrow, saying that the increased wages allowed by the commission go into effect next Monday, and that the company would be unable to meet them if the higher fares did not go into effect simultaneously.

Positive 6 Cents Is Enough. The greater part of the afternoon session was devoted to the testimony of C. E. Smith, the city's consulting engineer, who declared on cross-examination that he would stake his reputation as an engineer on his ability to operate the United Railways on a 6-cent fare, meet all obligations and have something left for the stockholders.

To do this, he said, he would have "couped receivers" certificates for approximately $1,000,000 to purchase light cars which would seat about 40 passengers, and which would be operated by one man. He contended that saving in power and in cutting the wage cost of operating the car in half would effect a great marked reduction in expenses.

He would separate the city and county lines, he said, making the county lines self-supporting. Other economies, he contended, could be effected by reviving the skip-stop system, in use during the war, and in consolidation of tracks.

Francis, recalling Smith's testimony at the time the franchise ordinance was under consideration, that $400,000,000 was a fair valuation of the United Railways, and that the city would obtain a bargain if it purchased the company at that price, asked Smith what he considered a fair valuation to be.

Smith evaded the question, saying that the commission was now making an official valuation, and any statement by him would be a mere guess. He said that in view of the conditions contained in the ordinance, he thought at that time $60,000,000 to be a fair valuation.

Francis also asked him if he had not given the opinion that 7 per cent would be a fair return for the United Railways to have. "I may have," replied Smith.

After Smith had insisted that the city riders should not be forced to make up deficits on the St. Louis County lines, Francis asked him if the receiver probably would not be forced to cease operating the county lines if they were separated from the city system.

Smith replied that such a condition would not result. He said that if he was operating the system he would take off the heavy cars in the county, put on light cars, and thus establish many 5-cent fare zones to encourage short-distance riding.

"That is another of your theories," said Francis.

"No," replied Smith, "it is in actual practice elsewhere. The receiver can get money elsewhere than from the fare boxes. He can issue receiver's certificates."

In reply to a question from Francis as to where the receiver would get the money to pay the certificates, he replied that their value was in the company, and that the money received from them was expended in maintaining the property, thus increasing the equity of the shareholders.

Francis presented a table of earnings. Smith submitted a table which he said would truthfully represent the net earnings of the company from 1914 to 1918, both inclusive, if those earnings had been properly set forth in the company's reports. This, he said, was based on the statements of the company's figures, so as to eliminate excess credits to the company's reserve fund and incorrect charges against the depreciation account. The table was as follows:

	Net Earnings	Fixed Charges
1914	$4,026,848.24	$2,207,915.47
1915	2,094,808.24	2,207,915.47
1916	5,818,109.68	2,475,476.68
1917	8,060,428.32	2,778,022.84
1918	2,770,002.01	2,738,737.71
1919	2,683,154.17	2,738,737.71
1920	2,745,281.83	2,738,737.71

1929	2,700,698.85	2,620,173.32
1930	2,700,698.85	2,620,173.32
Total	$51,200,537.06	$24,242,125.11
Average for 13 years	$1,938,418.23	$1,864,393.47
Average annual surplus	$1,073,024.76

On the same basis, he said, it could be shown that under the 6-cent fare the company had a net annual surplus of $1,147,000.

Kirkwood Citizens Will Protest Against Proposed Increase in Street Car Fares.

A mass meeting of citizens of Kirkwood to protest against the proposed increase in street car fares, has been called for the city hall in Kirkwood tonight. It is proposed to send a delegation to appear before the Public Service Commission in Jefferson City.

At present the car fare from Kirkwood to downtown St. Louis is 11 cents, of which 5 cents is from Kirkwood to the city limits of St. Louis and 6 cents on the city lines. Under the rates asked by the company, there would be two 7 1/2-cent zones from Kirkwood to the city limits, and 7 1/2 cents on the city lines, increasing the total fare from 11 cents to 22 1/2 cents.

Residents of Kirkwood complain that the increase would mean that many residents of Kirkwood whose business is in St. Louis would move to the city to reside, and that property values in Kirkwood would be greatly depreciated.

Davis Biggs, a commissioner of the St. Louis Court of Appeals, will preside at the meeting.

HANSON SAYS HE HAS NO PLANS

SENATE COMMITTEE HEARS PLEA FOR INDIA

Dudley Field Malone Says England Is Making Oppression More Severe.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Claims of India, Lithuania, Ukraine, Estonia and Livonia for self-government were presented today to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Malone said that if it would "break the heart of the world" to reject the treaty, ratification in its present form would break the hearts of millions in Ireland, Egypt and India. Great Britain had secured a place for India at the peace table, he asserted, for selfish reasons only, meaning making more and more severe her oppression of the Indian people.

"England Wanted Another Vote." "England wanted to get another vote," he declared, "she didn't ask the people of India to even choose the representatives who would sign the peace treaty for her. Either India is to be an honest-to-God sign, then her condition will be worse than any territory under a mandate."

"Since the armistice fresh coercion laws have been enacted in spite of the unanimous protest of the nation, and when the people organized a nation-wide strike in connection therewith they were put down by the military, Martial law was proclaimed which had sentenced, up to June 20, 72 persons to death."

The case of the other four nations were presented by representatives of the mid-European association, who made a plea for American recognition of the countries as independent states. They said that such a chain of buffer states would be set up to cut Germany from Russia.

The four nations comprised 60,000,000 people and that the settlement of their cases having been left open by the peace conference, Germany was trying to "Germanize" them. As a result, their representatives declared, "another Balkan question" was growing up in the ruins of the Russian empire.

Lieutenant-Commander G. A. Beall, of the American navy, spoke for Estonia, the Rev. Carl Podin of New York, for Livonia; John S. Lopatt of Wilkes Barre, Pa., for Lithuania and Emil Revuk of New York for Ukraine. They declared Germany was not carrying out the treaty provisions along her eastern border and showed the committee a moving picture taken by an American army officer in Livonia portraying the execution of a number of Lithuanian men and women by the Germans because they were suspected of Bolshevism.

"Reduce Your Weight a Pound a Day"

"Not impossible," says a physician in a recent interview.

Not enough oxygen in the system and poor assimilation are generally the cause of superfluous flesh. Too little of the food you eat is being made into good flesh, and too much into little globules of fat. This causes an excess of fat; sometimes all over the body or under the hips, over the bust or under the chin only.

One of the best methods for treating excess fat is to always breathe deeply and to take a few grains of physio-chemically pure KI-MOIDS into good food each meal and at bedtime. Remarkably quick results are generally secured by the use of this drug. KI-MOIDS is a new, safe, simple directions even a few days' use should show you what a good result it is. As this excess fat, which is "veg" weakening, disappears, you should regain your strength rapidly and your skin should take on a healthy tone and firmness with no fibrousness.

For a free sample of KI-MOIDS, write to Scott & Bowne, 100 West 47th St., New York City. A good drug store is so near and so good that you can get it without a prescription. But even your most intimate friends need know of it, though they may not know it. It is not expensive and fresh air is the best treatment in real cases.

FUNDS ARE NEEDED FOR SURVEY OF CITY JOBS

Board Will Attempt to Borrow Employees if Money Is Not Available.

The Efficiency Board met today to consider plans for a survey of city departments, suggested by Mayor Kiel, to determine whether there are useless jobs which could be abolished. After discussing a plan of action the board voted to call upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to provide funds for employees to aid in the survey. If funds are not available, the board will attempt to borrow men from departments.

Harry O. Clymer, a member of the board, said after the meeting that he did not believe the survey would disclose many, if any, useless jobs.

"People generally do not understand the work of city employees," he said. "For instance, when one thinks of draftsmen, he thinks of building operations, and if there is no building there is no use for a draftsman. But draftsmen are necessary employed in many departments, such as the house numbering department, and in case of accidents on the streets draftsmen must make blueprints for the law department."

The board approved a plan of survey suggested by Alonzo F. Barr, chief examiner. All city employees under each section of classification will be reviewed to determine whether there are positions which are now than at the time of the adoption of the charter in 1914. Payrolls will be examined to determine the cause of increases, whether due to more men or increases in salaries.

The work of employees will be examined with a view to deciding whether there can be consolidation of jobs with a view to dismissing men where a duplication of work is shown.

The Efficiency Board has no authority to dismiss any employee, and if it decides to recommend any dismissals, it will notify the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. If dismissed, the dismissed employee will be notified by the board, the latter board has it within its power to withhold funds from the department.

NURSE INTERNED FOR HOSTILITY TO U. S. RETURNS TO ST. LOUIS

Mrs. Eleanor von Boehmer, now on Parole, Was at Fort Oglethorpe.

Mrs. Eleanor von Boehmer, a trained nurse, who resided at 4063 McPherson avenue prior to her arrest and internment in June, 1918, for pro-Germanism, returned to St. Louis today on parole, and reported to the Federal authorities. She had been in the internment camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., for 14 months, with other German enemy aliens, reporting one of the 12 women interned during the war.

Pending the official ending of the war, she will remain on parole, reporting regularly to the Federal authorities. When peace is proclaimed she may either be released or deported.

She was indignant that a "woman of culture," as she described herself, should have been compelled to associate with "illiterate aliens" at the camp. She also said that she was poorly fed, but she appeared to be as robust as when she left St. Louis. Last to a Post-Dispatch reporter, she said that she had been well treated and was satisfied with the conditions under which she was interned, as she said, were other enemy aliens.

The activities which resulted in her arrest were repeated and insistent. Federal officers several times warned her that she was overstepping the bounds and assured her that her actions were well known to the authorities. Despite the warnings, she pursued the same course, which consisted largely of openly defying Germany and criticizing the United States for entering the war.

He said he was feeling fine and surely would make the half way mark at Union, Mo. tonight. Nolte and Frumberg set out yesterday at 6:30 a. m. and reached Pond, Mo., 23 miles from St. Louis last night.

Sweden to Decline U. S. Invitation.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 27.—The Minister of Agriculture advises the nonacceptance of the invitation sent to the Swedish Government by the management of the International Farm Congress, which will be held in Kansas City, Mo., in September. As no program of the work to be accomplished by the congress was sent to the Swedish Government, sufficient benefits might be obtained by sending delegates to the gathering and time was too short to select suitable delegates.

LETTER COMPLAINING OF PRICE OF ICE JUST PASSED ABOUT

Circuit Attorney McDaniel, Sixth Recipient, Asks What to Do With Profiteering Charge.

A complaint of profiteering which has been going the rounds of city, State and Government officials for 15 days, without any official action being taken, reached Circuit Attorney McDaniel and after reading it he asked newspaper reporters to advise him as to where it should be sent next.

The complaint was that ice, which it costs only $1 a ton to manufacture, is being sold in St. Louis for $9 a ton.

After reading the complaint the Circuit Attorney said: "This is nothing for me to handle. The mere fact that ice is being sold at $9 a ton does not call for action on my part. If it were being sold for $1,000,000 a ton and the people would pay the price, that would be the people's lookout, not mine."

The complaint was mailed to Mayor Kiel Aug. 14 by E. J. Pletzer, manager of the Standard Underground Cable Co., in the Security Building. In his letter he said he had been in St. Louis two weeks and was greatly surprised when he was required to pay $9 for a coupon book calling for a ton of ice, which was double the price he was required to pay four or five years ago.

With coal at $3 a ton, chemicals at the normal ruling prices and labor at the present standard, he said, a good grade of ice could be manufactured for $1 a ton. In 1915, he said, the cost of production was 59 cents a ton. Allowing for a delivery cost of about $2.50 a ton in the residence district, he said, the price of $9 was so excessive as to be classed as profiteering, and he urged that it be investigated.

Mayor Kiel turned the letter over to his secretary, Harry Crutcher, who, on Aug. 15, forwarded it to United States District Attorney Hensley.

On Aug. 23 one of Hensley's assistants, N. C. Whaley, forwarded the letter to Shadrach P. Howell, assistant Attorney-General of the State, at Jefferson City, with

The Misses' Store Announces Autumn Clothes of Charming Simplicity

YOUNG women of today are learning the old poems in a new way; they are saying: "The Autumn days have come, the gladdest of the year."

With swagger Suits to buy, and Dresses, "O! so dear!" Indeed it would be impossible to say anything else after a visit to this store. Always first in things of interest to young women and girls, we are priding ourselves this season on having really outdone our previous records, in variety, style distinction and unusual values.

Consider the Suits

Suits are our "first loves" of the Fall; especially if one is going away to school. For traveling and early Fall wear, come the tailored models of tricotine, checked velours and tinsel-tones. Quite proper and demure are they with straightline coats and shoestring belts, or they appear slightly sophisticated with close waist divulging into a ripple about the hips.

Church, matinee and dresser affairs are taken care of by fur-trimmed Suits of velour de laine, duvetyn, silver-tipped Bolivia and lovely soft peach bloom.

Perhaps a mole-trimmed peach bloom in Pompeian red will meet the approval of some; while others will delight in blue velour de laine, whose gray squirrel neckpiece comes as a separate asset. So we might go through the list of our numerous fur, color and material combinations, but at any rate, the Suit which "was made for you" is sure to be found among them. They come in sizes 14 to 20 years, and are priced from $45 to $245.

Behold the Frocks

The Frocks are decidedly girlhood's own, and are entirely in keeping with mother's ideas of what daughter should have.

A cloth Frock to rely upon and to respond to the dozens of calls put upon such a garment, might be of tricotine, serge or twill, but it is sure to be simple of design, with just a bit of trimming or change of line to mark it as unusual.

Satins have no small role to play in the Fall drama of clothes. The realm of tailored gowns has been invaded by satin, and most successfully, too. The soft draped styles worked out in kitten's ear crepe or Georgette, are most beguiling with their beads and fringes. Navy and brown are the popular colors. The sizes are 14 to 20 years, and the prices $24.75 to $139.

Those dainty bits of attractiveness—the Party Frocks—rustle their taffeta and flaunt their tulle in a most bewildering fashion, when they are not softly and silently stealing our admiration with silken panne velvet of wondrous hues, or tickling our fancy with pert edgings of ostrich feather on Georgette flounces. Their color combinations and absolute daintiness are wonderfully appealing. They come in sizes 14 to 20 years. The prices are $24.75 to $165.

In the Girls' Store—Younger Sisters Are Not Forgotten

THE Girls' Store is prepared to take care of the little lady of six-to-sixteen in equally fine style as that shown to her older sister. With school days drawing nearer and nearer, the clothes situation is just now of supreme importance, and we are at your command to help solve the problems.

The Dresses of Fine Serge

Nothing, all girls agree, is more joyful to wear, and all mothers agree that nothing is more practical than Regulation Dresses with their smart braided collars and embroidered emblems. There are other dresses, however, such as coat effects with pique collars and cuffs, and pretty serge- and silk combinations, daintily embroidered. The Dresses are made for girls from 6 to 16. Their prices are $12.50 to $35.

Coats of Style and Comfort

Coats, which serve the double purpose of being good to look upon and very good to wear, are a specialty with us. For girls from 6 to 16, there are Coats of velour, kersey, mixtures and Bolivia cloth—some fur trimmed, others plain tailored. The prices are most unusual and cannot be duplicated later. They are $19.75 to $115.

High school girls will realize that these Hats have just the "air of difference" and yet substantialness, which their wear demands.

The Hats come in soft roll-brim styles, mushroom shapes and straight brim sailors. Some are all-velour and others have long-nap beaver facings. The colors are black, brown, navy, beaver, purple, Copenhagen and taupe. For real returns for your investment, these Hats are most unusual.

KING HELD FOR TRIAL ON 2 MURDER CHARGES

Kansas Sits Unmoved at Hearing While Doctors Reassemble Skeleton of His Alleged Victim.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ESKRIDGE, Kan., Aug. 29.—Sitting in the presence of skeletons of two of the three of his alleged victims, Rufus King, former livery man of Maple Hill, Kan., yesterday faced his accusers on two charges of murder. He was held for trial for first-degree murder on both charges. In the October term of the Wabash County District Court and remanded to jail without bond.

King's attorneys offered no defense in either hearing, but cross-examined closely all the State's witnesses. Both hearings were completed last night.

King was charged with the murder of John Woody, a Paxico (Kan.) youth, who formerly worked for him, and William F. Ringer, a jewelry peddler of Wisner, Neb. Ringer disappeared 13 years ago and Woody about 10 years ago from Maple Hill. King was held for trial a week ago for the murder of Rufus Guthrie, another Maple Hill boy.

Doctors Lay Out Bones.
Shortly before the first preliminary hearing began yesterday afternoon, Dr. W. F. Richardson and Dr. C. E. Menard, both of Paxico, carried a small wooden box to a long burlap-covered table placed just in front of the stage in the Eskridge Opera House, where the preliminaries were held before a Justice of the Peace. The box contained the bones that had been identified as Woody's skeleton. Slowly and carefully the two physicians laid out the bones on the table until they took the shape of the skeleton of a grown man.

King sat with his back to the stage facing the well-filled opera house, a half-burned cigar between his teeth, his hands manacled. Now and then he would bow his head to relight his cigar. He watched every move made by the two physicians out of the corner of his eye, but never once did he turn his head far enough to one side to look directly at the skeleton. His wife, Mrs. Grace King, and his sister, Mrs. Mattie Cooper of Topeka, both sat opposite him. Mrs. King, like her husband, showed no emotion, and carefully kept her eyes from the skeleton.

No Signs of Violence.
The extra precautions taken by Sheriff Baker in surrounding the opera house with special deputies, was entirely unnecessary. There were no signs of violence at any time during the day or night.

Probably the most damaging witness in the case of the old jewelry peddler was John Turnbull, a blacksmith and garage owner of Maple Hill. Turnbull related that he passed King's livery barn a number of years ago, and was attracted by a fresh mound of dirt to the south of the barn.

"I asked King if he had buried a horse there, and he told me he had, but requested that I not say anything about it," the witness said.

Relatives Testify.
John Woody, uncle of the missing youth; Dawson Woody, his father, and several cousins testified to their belief that the skeleton exhibited was that of John Woody. Dawson Woody told of his refusal to give John's pony and saddle to King, and of King having told him of hearing from John.

After the evening hearing T. O. Ringer of Tilden, Neb., and O. R. Ringer of Wisner, Neb., obtained permission from the court to examine effects found, the authorities say, at King's place, and believed to have belonged to the peddler, their brother. T. O. Ringer, who made the examination, found four linen collars upon the hands of which were the letters "W. F. R." He asserted the letters convinced him the collars had belonged to his brother. King, under guard, was returned to Topeka for safekeeping.

LANE FAVORS CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

Urges That President Get Representatives of Capital and Labor Together as Soon as Possible.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—President Wilson should call a conference of representatives of capital, labor, industrial managers and the public to meet in Washington in the near future to discuss perplexing economic problems confronting the nation. Secretary of the Interior Lane declared in a statement yesterday.

"There are four sides to the table," said Lane. "I believe the President should call immediately a conference of representatives of the four great factors involved in the present economic situation, labor, capital, business executives and the public. Such a conference would go far toward solving the problems the nation today faces."

The proposed conference, the Secretary held, should take up the questions of relations between employer and employee, of labor's proportion of earnings and of improving industrial conditions by calling in executives who have solved these problems successfully in their own organizations. "Shop and mill workers could produce a considerable part of their own food were factories located in smaller communities with a view to the welfare of the workers as well as the convenience of the owners. More of our people must become producers of foodstuffs, even on a small scale, if the cost of living is to be lowered."

Lane said President Wilson should call such a conference at once without waiting for action by Congress.

Sorosis shoes are designed for comfort and so made that their wearing and shape-retaining qualities are surpassed, we believe, by none. For the school child shoes in calfskin, kid and tan calf, in button or lace, are most serviceable. A Boy Scout shoe in black and tan is also a splendid shoe for rough wear.

For dress occasions patent leather shoes with cloth or kid tops in white or colors are always good.

The buying of a cheap shoe is not economy—the real saving is the purchase of a well-made, good-fitting, durable shoe that will retain its shape and appearance.

We have just closed a great Summer's business and we have added hundreds upon hundreds of new patrons to our list of satisfied customers for men's wearing apparel.

GOOD REPORTS GIVEN MOST U. R. CONDUCTORS

Butler Tells Board Hearing Cases of 21 Men That "Spotters" Are Seldom Unfavorable.

"Spotters" turned in more favorable than unfavorable reports on United Railways conductors whom they investigated, according to testimony given yesterday by Henry O. Butler, acting superintendent of transportation, before the special board of arbitration hearing the cases of 21 conductors charged with misappropriating fares.

He produced the record cards of 27 conductors, showing that "spotters" had been assigned to watch them, and had reported favorably on them. Butler also emphasized that a conductor was not discharged if only a few "bad" reports were made on him. He gave the case of one conductor on whom 220 reports were made, nine of them being bad. The conductor is still working, he said.

Remarkably Honest.
Butler gave the opinion that the work of the "spotters" had proved that conductors, as a whole, were remarkably honest. He mentioned several cases of men who had been watched. Reports were made on one 336 times, with not a bad one. Another was checked 381 times, with one bad report. In cases like that, he said, no attention was paid to the unfavorable reports.

Daniel R. Vance, the former Wellston line conductor, whose case is on trial, was checked 17 times between May and December, 1917, and only one bad report was made, he said. However, out of 37 reports made on Vance during this year, 34 were against him, Butler said.

Two "Spotters" Accuse Vance
John G. Sewell, a "spotter," testified that he rode on Vance's car from Broadway to Jefferson avenue on May 20, and saw Vance pocket eighteen 6-cent fares. On one occasion, he testified, Vance withheld Sewell's own fare. He testified to seeing Vance withhold fares on "three occasions."

Amos Carpenter, a "spotter," told of seeing Vance take fares on three different days, and Fred C. Ford, also an auditor, testified he saw Vance keep fares on three occasions. Carpenter said Vance once took 10 cents from a drunken man and kept all of it.

Each of the auditors was asked his St. Louis address by H. M. Nelson, president of the local carmen's union representing Vance, and each refused, on advice of counsel, to give it.

GENERAL STRIKE ON AT PEORIA; CAR SERVICE PARTLY TIED UP

Walkout Fostered by Insurgent Miners; Many Plants Reported Preparing to Close Down.

By the Associated Press.
PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 29.—A partial stop of street car service attended the opening here this morning of a three-day general strike.

Refusal of American Federation of Labor representatives to countenance the strike kept the majority of workmen on the job today. The general strike committee sent flying squadrons to all the factories of the city early this morning and many plants were reported to be preparing to close down.

The general strike was fostered by insurgent coal miners and steel workers, who are demanding that union labor in the Peoria district aid them by a sympathetic walkout to gain recognition of unionism and abolishment of an alleged "blacklist," said to be maintained by the local association of commerce and the Peoria Merchants and Manufacturers' Association.

TOMBSTONE FALLS ON GIRL

Pinioned Beneath Monument While Playing in Grafton (Ill.) Cemetery.

Alice Redd, 11 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redd, of Grafton, Ill., was painfully injured Wednesday while playing in the Odd Fellows Cemetery at Grafton, when she dislodged a large tombstone, causing it to topple over her. She was pinioned beneath the stone and her leg was broken between the hip and the knee. The weight of the stone was so great that three persons were required to lift it and release her. She was taken to the Alton Hospital.

"LACK OF LOVE," DIVORCE PLEA

Dr. Josiah Thurmon Files Suit at Clayton, Telling of Desertion.

Dr. Josiah Thurmon, Page avenue and Ferguson avenue, St. Louis County, today filed suit for divorce at Clayton against Mrs. Pearl M. Thurmon, 6753 Page avenue, on a charge of "lack of love."

He asks custody of their two children. They have been married 19 years. Recently, the petition asserts, Mrs. Thurmon repeatedly has stated that she no longer loved him, that life with him was intolerable and announced her purpose to leave him, which she did on April 27.

Prussia Bars Flags on Sedan Day.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The Prussian Government has ordered a discontinuance of the custom of hoisting flags on public buildings on the anniversary of the Battle of Sedan, but the people regard the hoisting as a demonstration in favor of the old regime and doubt the government's determination to pursue its new policy.

U. S. Releases Former German Officer.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Felix A. Sommerfeld, former officer in the German army, and a leader in a number of Mexican revolutions, has been released from the internment at Fort Oglethorpe. Sommerfeld, friends here said, plans to remain in the United States.

After Carranza and Villa broke off relations, Sommerfeld became Villa's purchasing agent in this country.

MADISON SHOOTING WAS 'WARNING TO LABOR ORGANIZERS'

Acting Chief of Police Says
It Was Due to Determination to Prevent Control of Town and Plant.

"TRYING TO KEEP THE I. W. W. OUT"

Man Who Had Not Been in Labor Meeting Was Wounded by Fire of Police Chief.

The "shooting up" of a labor meeting in East Madison by Patrick Mc-Cambridge, Chief of Police of Madison, Wednesday night, and the serious wounding of one man, not a participant in the meeting, resulted from the determination of the Madison authorities not to let Madison, and particularly the plant of the American Car and Foundry Co., there, get into the control of a group of labor organizers who, it is declared, now control Granite City.

This explanation was made to a Post-Dispatch reporter today by "Big Bill" Street, former Chief of Police of Madison, who was with McCambridge at the labor meeting, and who was temporarily in charge of the department today. McCambridge and Mayor Garesche being in St. Louis.

As was told in yesterday's Post-dispatch, McCambridge, Street and two other men in uniform went to the meeting, which had been called for the purpose of organizing the employees of the American Car & Foundry plant. McCambridge began firing his revolver as soon as he entered a saloon adjoining the hall, and is said to have fired 14 shots in and outside the hall. It has not appeared that anyone else did any shooting, or that there was any disorder before the arrival of the police party. Joseph Wedgie, who is not an employee of the car company and was not in the meeting, was shot through the left lung as he stood outside the hall. He is in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Granite City, in a serious condition.

Meeting Broken Up.
The labor meeting was broken up by the shots, and the men went to Carpenters' Hall in Granite City, where they arranged for a later meeting.

Chief McCambridge, when seen by the reporter yesterday, refused to say anything about the shooting, and Mayor Garesche could not be found at the Mayor's office or at the car plant, where he is paymaster.

The reporter today made an effort to get a statement from the officials of the car company, as to their attitude toward the effort to organize the employees, and their action, if any, in requesting police interference with Wednesday night's meeting. No statement could be obtained from anyone authorized to speak for the company.

Street, when questioned by the reporter, said:
"We are trying to keep the I. W.
W. and the Bolshevik out of Madison. The Socialists got Granite City, but they haven't got Madison yet."

Organization Methods Opposed.
"Go to Granite City and ask about Galloway, the union organizer. It is his methods that are objected to.
We aren't against labor unions, but we are against the methods of Galloway and the Granite City labor crowd."

Street said he was formerly a railroad switchman, and thought he was well paid when he got 27 and 28 cents an hour. "The car and foundry company pays its men well," he added.

The American Car and Foundry
Co. is a $60,000,000 New Jersey corporation, with its main offices in New York. W. H. Woodin of New York is president. Its headquarters were formerly in the Syndicate Trust Building here, and it still maintains a branch office in those quarters. The company has plants in South St.
Louis as well as in Madison.

Earl Y. Galloway, to whom Street referred, is president of the Tri-City Central Trades Council, and is an organizer under the American Federation of Labor. He was instrumental in bringing about the recent strikes at the Hoyt Metal and Corn Products plants, which ended recently in settlements on approximately the former wage basis, following lockout at both places. He was a supporter of the former Socialist city administration in Granite City.

CITY ENGINEERS WANT INCREASE

An increase of $20 a month in the salaries of the 50 stationary engineers employed by the city was requested yesterday to meet the increased cost of living. Incidentally, the salary increases that have been requested by city employees would add a total of $177,000 a year to the city payroll.

As most of the engineers affected are in the Water Department, the request was presented to Water Commissioner Wall. The men now are getting $166 a month, and are asking for $186. Wall said he would confer with Mayor Kiel and Chairman Her-tenstein of the Efficiency Board this afternoon.

IRISH VICTORY FUND

Americans—Ireland Appeals to You in Her Struggle for Liberty

When American independence hung in the balance in 1776 Ireland gave freely of her sons and money that America might be a Nation of Free Men. No nation gave more to Washington, the first Sinn Feiner in America.

We have paid in blood and gold the debt we owed to France and Lafayette. Are we to repudiate the debt we owe to Ireland and hold back the little she asks? If not, now is the time. The hour of fate has come. The trumpet of Liberty has sounded. Will liberty-loving Americans respond?

When, during the troublesome times of the Revolution, Benjamin Franklin went to Ireland and addressed the Irish Parliament, as the champion of American Liberty, he expressed the hope that some day would see a champion of Irish Freedom addressing an American Congress in a free America.

We were your friends then, we have proven to be your friends ever since. There is not a relic that you treasure which has not been sanctified by the blood of the Irish race. Her sons have fought for the liberty of every land and never betrayed liberty's cause. In the mighty conflict just ended more than half a million Irishmen from Ireland, Britain, Australia, Canada and New Zealand, and more than a million from America, have fought that democracy might live.

At the great Irish Race Convention, held at Philadelphia, February 22nd, 1919, a million dollars was pledged by the delegates assembled there for the purpose of putting the Irish question before the American people in its true light. Frank P. Walsh, during the Irish question before the American people in its true light. Frank P. Walsh, during the late war Joint Chairman of the War Labor Board and a native son of Missouri, addressing that convention, pledged in the name of liberty-loving Missourians the sum of $50,000.00 to the Irish Victory Fund.

Men and Women of Missouri

What will be your answer to this pledge? Will it be the traditional answer of Americans to every just appeal? Will it be the answer that Irishmen gave to America in 1776, 1812, 1861, 1898 and 1917 in defense of American Liberty? GIVE NOW AND GIVE FREELY.

Remember your debt to Ireland.

SHOPMEN WILL WAIT 90 DAYS FOR LOWER PRICES

Reserve Right to Strike Then if Government Cannot Reduce Cost of Living.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Labor unrest over the country is the subject of further conferences today between President Samuel Gompers and the members of the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor. After these conferences, Gompers is to discuss the general labor situation with President Wilson at the White House.

Matters understood to have been considered today by the labor officials include the threatened strike of steel workers and demands of railroad employees for increased wages unless living costs are reduced. As the federation chiefs assembled, Frank Morrison, secretary, said a general statement probably would be issued during the day.

Shop Craft Attitude.

Industrial peace in the United States, according to the Legislative Council of the railroad shop crafts, depends on the results the Government will show in the next 90 days in its campaign to reduce the cost of living. That time limit was tacitly set yesterday by the council in suggesting to union locals throughout the country that President Wilson's compromise offer in response to their demand for higher wages should be accepted pending the outcome of the effort to restore a normal price level.

If the cost of living does not come down, the 500,000 members of the shop crafts would reserve the right to strike for more money, and with them probably would be associated the remainder of the 2,500,000 railroad employees.

NEW YORK HIPPODROME CLOSED WHEN 412 STAGE HANDS STRIKE

Entire Cast Follows. After World's Largest Playhouse Was More Than Half Filled by Patrons.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The New York Hippodrome, the city's largest playhouse, which thus far had been unaffected by the actors, stage hands and musicians' strike, was closed last night after the house had been more than half filled by patrons, when 412 stage hands walked out.

Left "high and dry" by the strike of stage hands, the entire cast, including 32 principals, 204 chorus members, 180 ballet dancers, 94 specialty artists and clowns, 69 swimmers, 44 animal trainers, 12 equestrians, 44 musicians, 193 ushers and members of the house staff, quit the theater and flocked in large numbers to headquarters of the Actors' Equity Association where many enrolled as members.

Mark Lawrence, manager, said the strike fell like a "thunderbolt from a clear sky" as the performance, "Happy Days," had been classified as vaudeville and the management had been assured it would not be affected.

The Hippodrome management said the strikers had been "treated royally" and were receiving wages ranging from $10 to $14 a week, which were higher than the union scale. All who worked last Saturday night when "Happy Days" opened received a share of a $1500 bonus.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Theatrical circles believe the strike of stage hands and musicians, which last night closed the Shubert-Belasco, would not spread to other playhouses, all of which either are owned by local interests or by some companies not members of the producing managers' association. The Shubert-Belasco is owned by the Shubert and Belasco interests. The strike was announced from the stage before the performance of "Up From Nowhere" was to have begun. Members of the company were not involved in the walkout as their contracts with the producers, John D. Williamson, had been approved by the actors' association.

MAYNARD, CLERGYMAN AND AVIATOR, APPARENT WINNER

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Lieut. E. W. Maynard, Baptist clergyman, and army aviation officer, looks like the winner of the speed end of the great New York-Toronto air race. The 307 1/2 minutes actual flying time consumed in driving his De Havilland over the 1040 miles is so far ahead of his next nearest rival for first place, Sergeant A. B. Coombs, as to make his lead apparently safe but the figures are unofficial, and represent less than half those who have finished. It was probably a week before the handicap end of the contest is summed up.

Twenty-seven of the entrants in the race have completed their round trip. Nine are still flying. The race will end at midnight tonight. Fifty-seven plane entered and 52 started. Sixteen were slightly damaged.

SUIT SAYS 5 DOGS ATTACKED HIM

A suit for $5290 damages was filed yesterday at Clayton by Robert Priess, an employee of the Clayton Ice and Supply Co., against Henry Bender, 552 Forsythe road, president of a rubber tire company, alleging that he was attacked by five dogs at Bender's home last Monday and seriously injured by one of them.

Priess was delivering ice at the time.

10 BALLOONS ARE ENTERED IN RACE TO START HERE OCT. 1

Six Cities Will Be Represented, St. Louis With Five Entries, Maj. Albert Bond Lambert Announces.

NEW RECORD MAY BE MADE, HE SAYS

Believes Veteran Pilots Have Good Chance to Lower 1350-Mile Mark Set in 1909 by Allan Hawley.

Ten balloons representing six cities were announced as the complete entry list for the national balloon race, which will start from St. Louis on Oct. 1, by Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, who is directing the arrangements for the race. St. Louis has five entries.

Maj. Lambert said the character of the pilots indicated to him that the national and international long distance flight record of 1350 miles, set by Allan Hawley of New York, starting from St. Louis in 1909, might be bettered. Hawley landed in Northern Canada.

The entrants and the cities they represent follow: Capt. Elmer G. Marchant, St. Louis; Capt. Carl W. Dammann, Wichita, Kan.; Ernest S. Cole, St. Louis; John S. McKibben, St. Louis; G. L. Bumbaugh, Indianapolis; H. E. Honeywell, Kansas City; Ralph Upson, Akron, O.; Warren Rasor, Brookville, O.; William Assman, St. Louis, and Paul J. McCullough, St. Louis.

Of the entries, Cole, McKibben, Honeywell, Rasor and McCullough were balloon instructors in the United States Air Service during the war. Honeywell is the most famous of the five as a racing balloonist. In 1912 he was second in the international race starting from Berlin, landing 1200 miles away at Moscow, Russia. He has numerous other trophies won in national and international competition. In the Paris international race several years ago, he crossed the English channel landing in England.

Upson is the "ace" balloonist and dirigible pilot of the Goodyear Rubber Co., which is building a balloon for the St. Louis race. Three other balloons designed to be the best creations for racing the balloon experience dictates are now nearing completion at the grounds of the Missouri Aeronautical Society, Grand avenue and Meramec street, where the start of the race will be made. Each is being constructed for lightness. They are the balloons to be piloted by McKibben, Bumbaugh, and Honeywell.

McKibben, who wears a mustache, will shave it, he says, when the start is made. Once in decreased weight, count for miles in increased flight in ballooning.

After New Record.
 The capacity of the entries is limited to 30,000 cubic feet. Maj. Lambert said he was satisfied that the lifting power of the gas to be furnished for the race would be equal to if not greater than the lifting power of the gas used in 1909 for Hawley's record. He said the contestants were determined for a new record.

The world's endurance balloon record is held by a Frenchman at 72 hours, but the mark is being attacked because a part of the time was spent over water with a drag rope out.

The prizes for the race are $200 for first, $200 for second and $200 for third, either in cash or in silver plate of equal value. Gas will be furnished contestants free of charge, the combined cost of the national race and of the dual meet of naval and army balloonists, which will be held at the same place on Sept. 28, being estimated at $12,000. The expense is being borne by the Missouri Aeronautical Society without outside subscription. The race is under the direction of the Aero Club of America.

REQUESTS INQUIRY INTO KILLING OF FORMER ST. LOUIS WOMAN

Union Leader Says She Was Shot by Deputy of Pittsburgh Coal Company.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 28.—An appeal to President Wilson for a Federal investigation of the killing of Mrs. Fannie Sellins, a labor organizer, formerly of St. Louis, by coal company deputies in a labor disturbance at the Brackenridge mines, has been made by Philip Murray, district president of the United Mine workers of America. In his telegram, giving the miners' account of the fatality, he said:

"The deputies fired into a group of strikers with their wives and children. Mrs. Sellins, who was trying to get the women and children out of the way, begged the deputies to desist. A mine official ordered a deputy to shoot Mrs. Sellins. She was shot through the head and in the back. A deputy sheriff then took Mrs. Sellins' hat, and placing it on his head, laughingly remarked that he would now be Mrs. Sellins. The Allegheny County authorities have suppressed these facts."

STABBED IN FAMILY QUARREL

Man Tells of Meeting Wife's Step-father on Street.
Lloyd Sullivan, 26 years old, 4425 Delmar boulevard, was stabbed in both sides and seriously injured at 9 o'clock last night in a quarrel with his wife's stepfather, Fred R. Mavers, 37 years old, 5606 Theodosia avenue, in front of 4462 Delmar. Mavers escaped and is being sought by police.

Sullivan told policemen he had left his home to go to a drug store when he encountered Mavers, who renewed an old quarrel over family affairs. In the fight that followed, he said, Mavers drew a knife and stabbed him and ran away.

One Little Pimple Spoils a Beautiful Face

No matter how beautiful the features, how radiant the complexion, just one little pimple spoils it all.

Not always can these little facial blemishes be prevented, for they may be caused by the too frequent use of irritating soaps, powders, rouge or possibly impure blood.

Every care should be taken to preserve the skin, especially the face, arms and hands. Only the purest and best sterilized toilet soap should be used to cleanse the skin, and when a face powder must be used, one of the highest quality should be selected.

When a pimple pops out on your face, you don't have to remain indoors to try to hide it. Simply touch the little spot with Black and White Ointment. It will vanish almost like magic. This little aid to beauty is such a necessary toilet requisite for removing facial blemishes, freckles, tan, sunburn, clearing dark, shallow, muddy complexion, that a package should be kept on every woman's dressing table.

Black and White Ointment is sold and guaranteed by all good drug stores at 25¢ a package, or the manufacturers will mail to you on receipt of price. Free sample and literature will be supplied you if you will clip and mail this to Black and White, Box 415, Memphis, Tenn.

TRUCK BURGLARS AGAIN

PLY TRADE AT NIGHT

Rob Three Places but Are Frightened Away From Two.

"Truck burglars," resuming activity after two weeks' vacation, were reported to have robbed three places early today. In two of the cases they were frightened away while at work.

Two men in an automobile were robbing the auto accessory store and oil filling station of Charles Burmeister, 4101 North Twenty-first street, at 12:05 a. m., when neighbors saw them and telephoned the Angelica street police. They escaped before the policemen arrived, taking $250 worth of accessories.

On the way to the shop Patrolman Mitchell stopped two men in an automobile at East Grand avenue and Twenty-first street as they came from the east. As he jumped on the running board of the machine and asked the men to drive him to the scene of the burglary he saw two cartons of cigarettes in the tonneau. He ordered them to drive to the police station, where he arrested both.

The men registered as Edward Gleason, 22, 2842 Windsor place, owner of the auto, and William Melinee, 28, 507 East Gano avenue. They said they had found the cartons. They were held for investigation.

Three When Policemen Came.

Six men with two automobile trucks were robbing the Union Vulcanizing Co.'s shop, 4624 Delmar boulevard, when neighbors saw them and telephoned the police at 3 a. m. As the patrol wagon loaded with patrolmen drove up the block the men jumped into their trucks and escaped. They carried away 25 automobile tires valued at $600. Others were found piled up near the door ready to be carted away.

At the shoe store of Louis C. Grawe, 2241 Cass avenue, during the night, burglars carted away 102 pairs of shoes valued at $600. They broke the bars on a rear window to get in.

An automobile delivery truck belonging to Joseph Masenag, druggist, Taylor and Olive street, was stolen at 8 p. m. by three men in a Hudson automobile, when the chauffeur, Daniel O'Brien, was making a delivery at 530 North Newstead avenue.

Ask About "Mr. Smith."

O'Brien told police the men apparently had followed him. They drove alongside him as he stopped, he said, and questioned him regarding a "Mr. Smith," they pretended to be seeking. He told them he knew no such person and started into the house. While he was inside the hallway one of the men jumped out of the large automobile, started the engine of the truck and both drove away.

Thomas W. Welsh, Seattle, Wash., told police how three bottles of beer had cost him $150.

Waiting for his train at Union Station, he said, he had met a girl who led him four blocks from the station, where she promised him all the beer he could drink. After the three bottles he said, he lost consciousness. When he awoke some time later, he said, he was stripped of his clothes, even down to his socks. The money, he said, he had put in a sock on the train as a precaution against just such a robbery. Police are seeking the girl.

FRANKLIN AVENUE MERCHANTS DENY THEY EMPLOY "PULLERS"

Object to Statements Made at Public Hearing Prior to Passage of Law Forbidding Street Soliciting.

Following the decision by Circuit Judge Kimmel Saturday upholding the validity of the "pullers" ordinance, which prohibits the solicitation of business on the streets by merchants except in front of their own stores, instructions have been issued to the police to arrest employees of stores violating the ordinance.

Proprietors of stores on Franklin avenue have objected to statements made at public hearings of the Board of Aldermen prior to the passage of the bill, including Franklin avenue among the streets from which it was said "pullers" operated. The general complaint was that they came from some stores on business streets north of Washington avenue.

FIFTEENTH LEGION POST HERE

Named for Two St. Louisans Who Died in Battle.

The fifteenth post of the American Legion in St. Louis, organized last night in Overbeck's Hall, 7345 North Broadway, was named Gardland-Stiemer Post, in honor of two St. Louis soldiers who died in fighting.

Myles J. Gardland, son of the caretaker of Calvary cemetery, was a member of the 25th Infantry, Eighty-ninth Division. William Stiemer was a member of A Company, Sixty-fourth Infantry.

Temporary officers of the new post are: A. P. Gutzman, chairman; Ralph Gmich, secretary; and Leander Leber, treasurer.

THEY TALK AND MISS CIRCUS

Alton city fathers talked themselves out of seeing the Walter L. Main Circus when it played there yesterday. Each Councilman had two passes for the show. They planned a short meeting and then the circus. They were ten minutes late in getting the meeting started, and then they talked so much that when they adjourned the circus was over.

GOVERNMENT LIKELY TO APPEAL DISMISSAL OF OIL LAND SUIT

Judge in U. S. District Court in California Finds Evidence of Fraud Inconclusive.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 29.—Holding that the evidence of fraud was inconclusive, Judge Benjamin F. Hodge, in the United States District Court, dismissed yesterday six consolidated suits filed by the Government against the Southern Pacific Oil and 221 other companies and individuals, seeking to have set aside patents to valuable oil lands in the San Joaquin Valley. The litigation involved 165,000 acres of oil bearing land valued at $421,000,000.

The Government alleged the Southern Pacific obtained patents to the land on affidavits declaring it to be chiefly valuable for agricultural purposes. Judge Hodge declared the Government surveyor had returned the lands in question as non-mineral bearing and that for several years the Southern Pacific sold these lands at prices ranging from $2 to $5 an acre. The Government took exception to the dismissal and indicated an appeal would be taken to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

HOW PLUNKETT WOULD SOLVE IRISH QUESTION

Sir Horace Explains Plan of Dominion League, Analyzes American View.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch. DUBLIN, Aug. 29.—Sir Horace Plunkett, founder of the Irish Dominion League, is devoting to that mode of solving the Irish question all the energy and skill in the reconciliation of men of varying views which he employed so successfully in the establishment of the Irish cooperative movement. He is not a politician and has no concern in party conflicts. He has friends in all the numerous Irish sections, in the Sinn Féin ranks and even among the Carson "diehards." His election to the chairmanship of the Irish convention was a unanimous tribute to his unique position in Ireland. It is many years since he ceased to be a member of the Government with which he was connected as vice president of the Department of Agriculture. He has no connection whatever with the Irish administration and his opinion of its many blunders and their contribution to the present condition of unrest has been freely expressed. He has many ties in America, where he lived on a ranch from 1879 to 1899. Few Irishmen have so much of the judicial temper or so much willingness to consider everybody's point of view.

The correspondent found Sir Horace at the Plunkett house and asked him what he thought of the great prominence given the Sinn Féin propaganda in America for an uncompromising policy of complete separation from England and for an independent Irish republic.

View of American Attitude. "I know," he replied, "that the Sinn Féin propaganda in the United States has made a large number of converts but I do not believe that, outside the Irish-Americans, there is any large body of Americans who would, on full consideration, favor an Irish Republic. Americans believe generally in self-government and self-determination, and such support as any of them have given to the policy of an Irish Republic is largely due to the belief that the Irish people, at the last election, determined for themselves that that form of Government and no other."

But the result of the election was the product of many causes, notably the rebellion, the execution of the rebels, the threat of conscription by the British Parliament. Thousands voted for the Republican candidates who would have been perfectly satisfied with the home rule within the Empire on equal terms with the self-governing dominions and would have voted for it if only they could have trusted the British Parliament to concede that demand.

"Until a firm offer of a full measure of self-government is made you cannot say what the unfettered judgment of the Irish people would decide to be the best for Ireland. I do not suggest for a moment that the Republican party did not score a great victory, but I do say that the election cannot be taken as a national self-determination in favor exclusively of a Republican policy because the British Government, most unwisely as I think, failed to give any encouragement to the advocates of any other policy."

"I do not believe that, if the Irish people had a period of six months or a year in which they could thresh the question out throughout the whole country, they would be in favor of a republic."

Dominion Home Rule.

"In my opinion the alternative most likely to be successful is that of dominion home rule. Even if an Irish republic were attainable, it would be less advantageous to Ireland than dominion home rule."

"A republic would not unite in its favor the largest possible number of Irishmen. At least 1,000,000 would remain irreconcilably opposed to it."

"I have not given up hope that I may live to see all the Irish sections, including those hitherto opposed to any form of self-government, coming to an agreement on a common plan."

"A Republic would never have the support of either the Northern or Southern Unionists, and these men have among them certain elements which are absolutely indispensable to the building up of a prosperous Ireland."

"What exactly," the correspondent asked Sir Horace, "is your idea of a Dominion status for Ireland?"

"Well," he replied, "I think it is fairly clearly put in the manifesto of the Irish Dominion League. It would recognize our distinctive nationality and afford us an equal place in the great commonwealth of free nations. Ireland would be represented in the league of nations and would cease to be represented by Westminster. All Irish legislation would be enacted in Ireland by an Irish Parliament. Through an executive department it would have complete control of the internal Government, and would fix, levy and collect all taxes, including customs and excise Irish trade relations with England would be a matter of mutual agreement and would no longer be dictated by the more powerful Government."

"How," the correspondent asked, "does such a plan differ in practice from complete independence?"

Question of Defense.

"The difference between the Republicans and the advocates of a dominion status is really on the question of naval and military defense. The best naval and military opinion everywhere contends that for the purpose of defense these islands are of necessity a strategic unit. They believe that danger to any port is danger to the whole. So long as the representatives of 41,000,000 British people and 1,000,000 Irish people are of that opinion, I do not see any use in the representatives of 3,000,000 Irishmen demanding sovereign independence and a separate system of naval and military defense."

"What can you do," he was asked, "about Sir Edward Carson's men and Northeast Ulster?"

"I do not think," said Plunkett, "that their mere non possumus (we cannot) attitude can be maintained. In a letter which he wrote me in February, 1918, Prime Minister Lloyd George said: 'A single Parliament for a united Ireland is an essential of a settlement.' We are entitled to ask the Ulsterman what special safeguards they demand. Their case can be simply met by a dominion settlement. I have always been in favor of giving the fullest consideration to their position and I am still of the opinion that the suggestion I made some years ago would afford a fair basis for a settlement. I said: 'Let them into a united Irish Parliament on the terms that, after giving it a fair trial, for a specified number of years, they might leave the Irish Parliament, if, on a plebiscite, in a definite area, they declared themselves not satisfied.' I was confident that they would never leave. I do not suppose that this offer will be made now. I only mention it to show that an Irishman who hates the idea of partition believes that the spirit of Irish unity would assert itself if given a chance."

BOY CHASES PURSE SNATCHER WHO TOOK WOMAN'S MONEY

Causes Arrest of Three When One Man He Pursued Kicks Him Off Street Car.

A chase by Charles Faudi, 16 years old, 2347 South Broadway, yesterday brought about the arrest of two men and a 16-year-old boy on charges of having stolen the purse of Mrs. Ida Ard, who resides on a farm near Cahokia, Ill. The purse contained $25.

Mrs. Ard was driving down Sidney street toward the river ferry. A 16-year-old boy asked for a ride at Seventh street, and climbed to the seat beside her. Within half a block, he seized Mrs. Ard's purse from the seat and fled. A man stepped up, promised to catch the boy and ran in pursuit up an alley. When he overtook the boy, the two fell into a walk, side by side, and disappeared.

Faudi chased them on his bicycle to Eighteenth and St. George street where they boarded a street car. Faudi attempted to board the car but the man kicked him off.

From descriptions he gave, the police arrested Fred Bieber Jr., 16, 821 Allen avenue, and he named Frank Mahlik, 27, 2138 South Broadway, as the man who ran with him, and Edward Miller, 21, 2212 South Fourth street, as sharing to the extent of $5.50 in the purse's contents. Mahlik and Miller denied knowledge of the robbery.

WINK AT WOMAN DECOY CAUSES MAN TO LOSE $4 IN HOLDUP

A young woman, stylishly dressed and with a winning smile, acted as a decoy for three youthful highwaymen who robbed Solomon Orr, 3744A Laclede avenue, last night.

Orr said he was waiting for a street car at Sarah street and Easton avenue, when the girl stopped at the corner. She winked at him, he said, and he winked right back.

"Want to take a car ride?" he asked her. "Sure. Wait till I get my coat," she replied. She led him to a house in the 2800 block on Evans avenue, where she said her sister lived.

There she left him outside while she went through a hallway to get the coat. She did not have it when she came out and said it was too cool to ride and suggested a walk. She led Orr down the block and back again to a point in the center of the block, where three youths stepped out from a hallway and held revolvers at his head while they went through his pockets. They took $4 and ran.

The girl in the meantime had stood by Orr laughing. As the boys ran away she smiled, waved her hand and disappeared.

By the Associated Press.

The conference was held in Halle to discuss means to overthrow the Government and to foment a world revolution.

CHILD, 5, RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Frances Limberos Suffered Fractured Skull and Internal Injuries. Frances Limberos, 5 years old, of 1903 Wash street, suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries at 6 p. m. yesterday, when struck by an automobile driven by King Parker, salesman, 29 Washington terrace, as the child with her two sisters attempted to cross the street at Nineteenth and Locust streets.

The other children ran to the sidewalk and escaped injury. Frances, who was not so quick, was struck. She was taken to the city hospital. Witnesses told policemen the child ran directly in the path of the machine, which, they said, was going at moderate speed. Parker was arrested and gave bond.

THE TALK OF A SHIRT.

The loss of wealth is loss of dirt, as sages in all times assert; The happy man's without a shirt.

Not so with Mr. Gust L. Fugelister, for the following letter indicates that he was happy only in the possession of his shirt:

Post-Dispatch, St. Louis, Mo.
Gentlemen—I wish to express my appreciation of the advertising value of your "Lost and Found" column in your valued paper, as it was the means of finding a Silk Shirt given to me for Christmas and lost on Clayton car last Saturday, 7 p. m. I had the "ad" in Tuesday's and Wednesday's edition and on the second evening a Mrs. Helms of 989 Cote Brillante avenue called up Coast Pharmacy, Clayton, to inform me of her son finding it. I sure feel very grateful for its return, and to the Post-Dispatch, "SOME PAPER."

Yours very truly,
GUST L. FUGELISTER,
438 Maramee av., Clayton, Mo.

This is the "ad" that was read by the lady who had the shirt. Found the shirt that Gust lost:

SILK SHIRT—Lost: marked G. L. F. on Clayton car. 7 p. m. Saturday; keepake. Return to Coast Drug Store; reward.

(This way please: Just to show you that the Post-Dispatch is entitled to the application of "SOME PAPER," last week it published 215 Lost and Found ads—nearly double the number in the four other local newspapers combined.)

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrongs, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Union Electric Replies to Questions.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Here are Union Electric Light and Power Co.'s answers to questions which you propounded in your editorial of Aug. 20, entitled "H. C. L. and Keokuk Current."

Question 1. Has any change been made in Union Electric Co.'s relations with the company owning the dam and transmission line from Keokuk to Florence?

Answer: No.

Question 2. Why does Union Electric Co. buy Keokuk power at one price and the United Railways at another and higher price?

Answer: For the same reason that wheat flour sells at a higher price than raw wheat, and for the same reason that receipts from the sale of newspapers and advertising by the Post-Dispatch are greater than the cost of the print paper used in the production of your paper.

Union Electric brings 65,000-horsepower of Keokuk energy to St. Louis in bulk under a long-term contract. Union Electric assumes the risk of loss and marketing this huge volume of power. Neither United Railways nor any other of Union Electric's 107,000 customers individually bears any part of the risk. Union Electric puts the risk of loss and marketing this huge volume of power. Neither United Railways nor any other of Union Electric's 107,000 customers individually bears any part of the risk.

Union Electric only asks from United Railways the fair cost of the power supplied to that company. Any time Union Electric gets more than the fair cost it is the duty of the Missouri Public Service Commission to change the price.

Street Car Fare Advance.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

It is quite evident there must be "something rotten" in any business or corporation that, with everything favorable for profitable return, go round with the hat for more cents. "The man in the street" judges the prosperity of a store by the crowd of customers who enter the place and space and capacity, like the U. R. cars, and naturally infers it is a good paying proposition. If not, why not? Even these sense minus lunatic shows that those who can afford least are hardest hit. 7 1/2 per cent is a 5 per cent tax on wages of the majority of straphangers.

ONE OF 'EM.

Mixed Bathing.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I read with considerable indignation the attitude of several persons toward mixed bathing and the recent fashion show. It appears to me that only those who are looking for the evil in things see so much. I have been in the swimming pool that has given rise to such severe criticism and have never seen anything to shock a fair-minded person. It is up to the people who do not approve of it to stay away. Speaking of people being annoyed by the noise and having their peace and rest disturbed, many times has my rest and sleep been broken by the ringing of church bells as early as 5 o'clock in the morning, but I considered it a free country and attended to my own business.

Now, about the fashion show: I attended one of its performances, and thought it a triumph of art and grace. I think it was a very broad assertion, and deserving severe censure, to say that the mixed swimming pools were only frequented by the scum of society. You will find undesirable people everywhere, even in all of our churches, but should decent people stay away on that account? Decidedly no. I am very strongly in favor of the municipal swimming pools, and think all decent people should resent the statement that was made reflecting on the character of persons who attended them.

MRS. J. C. WHITLEY.

Rush the Army Food.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Can't the Post-Dispatch do something to rush the deliveries of the surplus army food? There are many like myself who have invested practically their entire pay in the army food through parcel post, and now they find themselves broke and obliged to ask the grocer for credit or stand the landlord off for the rent. We feel grateful to the Government for the saving it has given us if we could get it. It was announced "First come, first served," but I see there are many calamities that are getting their deliveries, and when they get to our parcel post orders there will be nothing left for us.

ONE OF THE POOR.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARMISTICE.

The Executive Council of the railroad shop crafts has agreed to the truce proposed by President Wilson. The council recommends that the Government be given three months in which to reduce the cost of living. If at the end of that period of grace the Government has failed the shopmen will be privileged to resume hostilities by declaring a strike for more money, and the letter frankly states that all railroad employees, constituting an army of 250,000, will be expected to join with the shopmen in waging a war for higher wages.

The letter, of course, could have been worded more happily. The threat it contains gives it the color of an ultimatum, which is a new language to the Government of the United States. But it may be captious to quarrel with the form of the communication which, in substance, meets the most urgent requirements of the situation. The crisis, however, cannot positively be said to be averted. It still remains for the body of the shopmen to approve the judgment of their leaders. Probably it may be taken for granted that the Executive Council's plan will be endorsed. Nevertheless, instances of insubordination in labor organizations have occurred so frequently within the last few weeks that the possibility of mutiny among the railroad shopmen cannot wholly be ignored.

It is not too much to say that the very existence of organized labor is today endangered, and by forces within its own ranks. If labor leaders cannot lead, it is a truism to say they have no following and that their organization has disintegrated. If contracts entered into with labor unions are binding only so long as the unions regard such contracts as desirable, and to be repudiated as scraps of paper the instant they cease to be advantageous—whenever that becomes the policy, or philosophy, of labor unionism, then labor unionism as we have known it has vanished.

That philosophy so widely preached and scattered practiced has touched the railroad men themselves. The strike of railroad workers which has paralyzed traffic in California, Arizona and Nevada is without cause, wholly unjustifiable. It is an act which the railroad brotherhoods should denounce. It is, in its essence, a declaration of war upon the people of the United States, and unless the warning of Director-General Hines is heeded and the men return to work, the Government will see to it that traffic is resumed by whatever force may be required.

It may be that a number of institutions are now rocking on their foundations. If that is so organized labor must be included among them. Its capacity for service, its title to a place among the constructive energies of society, is being put to the test.

FOREST PARK FOR ALL THE PEOPLE.

Taylor Young's causes of complaint in the matter of Forest Park may have no standing in court. Certain of his figures may be based on exaggerated estimates. Nevertheless, some of his statements are entitled to serious consideration in deciding future park policies, even if they present no compelling reason for reversing past policies. He asserts that concessionaires occupy various spots in the park for the sale of refreshments, to the exclusion of the public; that the Triple A occupies 175 acres, whose privileges may be enjoyed only on payment of comfortable initiation fees and annual dues; that 75 acres are being prepared for the uses of an aviation field; that 25 acres are monopolized by the police station and 12 for stables and other purposes; that three acres are devoted to a municipal theater, to which an admission charge of from 50 cents to $2 is often made, without any accounting to the city, and that camps for auto tourists are also being established.

Perhaps no one of the specified uses to which park areas are devoted is to be condemned—some of them are decidedly to be commended—but the whole makes a showing rather worthy of public attention. If from nearly a fifth of the park area the public is now excluded or admitted only on the payment of some kind of a fee, how long will it be, assuming the present tendency continues, before the humble average citizen whose taxes pay for it all will be restricted to a very narrow acreage? Future policies must look to the strict maintenance of Forest Park as a playground of all the people.

AMERICANITIES.

"If I err," said Senator Fall, while discussing the peace treaty in the luminous, informing style peculiar to our statesmen—"If I err, I err sincerely. I err through an excess of patriotism. I err because I am an American."

But the Senator from New Mexico was not the first to instruct a tense gallery as to why the pact must be rejected. Senator Lodge, who wears the purple of scholarship, too, may be said to have beaten Fall to it. This Lodge: "An American I was born. An American I have remained all my life. I can never be anything but an American."

But what does the eminent playwright, Mr. George Cohan, think of those solemn pronouncements in our highest forum? There is no way of knowing, but it may readily be surmised that the greatest flag-waver of the American stage thinks those Senators are stealing his stuff.

EMPLOYERS AND SOLDIERS.

An ex-marine looking for work told his experience in a letter published in the Post-Dispatch Wednesday. The Demobilization Bureau could not put him in touch with a satisfactory job, but private employment agencies offered to place him provided he paid an extortionate commission. The accuracy of this soldier's statement has been vouched for by the director of the Demobilization Bureau, who says, further, that a number of soldiers have had similar experiences.

The bureau makes an appeal to business men which ought to bring a prompt response. Evidently there are good jobs to be had, but those vacancies are not listed with the Demobilization Bureau. They should be. Anything that may be said in censure of employment agencies that profiteer on soldiers is deserved, but employers who need men and who fail to let the Demobilization Bureau know it are not doing their part. It is their delinquency which makes it possible for the unscrupulous employment agencies to hold up returned soldiers for larcenous commissions.

The Demobilization Bureau cannot create jobs. It has no means of knowing where jobs are unless it is told. But if the business man will tell the bureau that he needs a man, the bureau will provide the man.

The failure of employers to communicate with the bureau is carelessness, of course. But it is inexcusable carelessness. The returned soldier is entitled to a job. If ever a man earned a chance to make good, the returned soldier is that man. Write or telephone to the Demobilization Bureau, you employers who want men. The address and telephone number of the Demobilization Bureau appear daily on the first page of the Post-Dispatch.

A RUSSIAN POLICY NEEDS.

From the Chicago Tribune.

Despite war and revolution, there is still a Russian people, the largest people of the white race. It still occupies a larger part of the earth's surface than any other people. It is a gifted race and it holds a wealth of resources. Its future is of considerable interest to the other nations; it will have a considerable effect on the other nations, whatever that future may be.

The Russian civil war is more violent than ever. Kolchak has given ground. But Yudenitch and Denikin are gaining. The Baltic army, of Russian troops supported by the British fleet which has just won an important victory off Kronstadt, is now threatening Petrograd. The British and French are furnishing support in war materials to the armies of Yudenitch and Denikin and Kolchak, and British troops are still on the Archangel front. Our allies are standing by the Russian parties who stood by them and who held the eastern front for three years of war.

We are supporting neither our friends nor our enemies. American support could do a great deal for Kolchak, materially and morally. Certain influences which are now operating to disturb the Siberian situation, and operating unhampered, would be materially restricted in their influence if American support were given to the Omsk Government. But as yet we have held aloof from Kolchak.

If Kolchak is a bad and undesirable person, then those who are opposing him must be right, and we should strive to win their friendship. But we are doing nothing to win Lenin's friendship; and it appears from his own utterances that we could not even if we tried. We are that institution most abhorrent in his eyes, a "bourgeois" democratic republic which is making a reasonable success of a system to which he is irreconcilably hostile. Perhaps if we held out the right hand of fellowship he might for a time forget his prejudices in return for immediate assistance, but nobody supposes that we are going to do that. The elements that favor Lenin in this country are for the most part those who favored the Germans in the war, or those who want to overthrow the present system of government here—not all of them, but most. Neither in numbers, in influence, nor in reputation are they sufficient to dominate the policy of the Government.

So recognition of Lenin is out of the question; but we seem still unwilling to recognize Kolchak. That is to say, whoever ultimately wins in the Russian civil war, we shall have no friends; our present course is merely breeding distrust and hostility toward America in all Russian parties.

JOY OF THE INFINITE.

(Being the dream of a man who was with great difficulty resuscitated after remaining insensible from shock at the recent railway wreck near . . .)

I LAUNCHED myself forward with unimaginable fury. I gave myself a sudden twist towards the right, but without deviating from the direct line on which I had started. I felt, as I did this, as if I were entirely under its—as if motion were my very nature.

I was spinning wildly, swiftly, vaguely, being somewhat retarded, however, by the spell of the idea that I had forgotten, in the madness of my new joy, what had caused me to begin this ungoverned flight.

A fierce delight seemed to be the propulsive force that gave me momentum. I felt that motion WAS my natural condition, and I had no fear. I said I felt this, and whatever I felt, I felt without question.

I shot on with a speed comparable to that of light, but without remarking anything of the course of my flight. I was conscious of passing through fields of azure and gold and emerald, which slightly excited my curiosity—hazy expanses, thickly strewn with stars.

Suddenly I dreamed I felt a voice. I said I dreamed—for, fiery tempest that I was, I actually heard and could hear nothing without focusing myself and, comparatively speaking, coming to a condition of rest.

And that might be desirable . . . Ever since, through the shock of a terrible railway collision, as I now recall, I had been propelled into the bodiless fourth-dimensional state, I had, like a skilled skater who finds himself on the best ice with an unbounded horizon, abandoned myself to the immense joy of motion for its own sake.

Through and past universes I had glided, insanely, hilariously, gloriously, to myself shouting peasant, inaudible but felt, chanting wordless psalms, rejoicing in pure existence encompassing so much intensity and reality.

The rush of that huge THING which suddenly, madly challenged me to exert my own proper action; which screamed to me to become godlike and attempted to beat me into nothingness—I say the rush of that projectile of iron and flame and wood and human beings, which I now know was nothing but a train colliding with mine, started me on this journey which is not a journey but a simple step forward, carrying me from mortality to divinity.

That THING'S momentum, great as it appeared to me at the instant of collision, was rest itself compared with the response to the challenge which I gave as soon as I gathered

With the Poets, Wits and Philosophers.

Myself into a focus and saw that it was MINE TO CREATE MOMENTUM and to combine the ponderable with the imperponderable and rest with action.

How natural now seemed the wish of Byron, speaking of a wild night among the mountains, to be "A sharer in thy fierce and far delight, A portion of the tempest and of thee. For was I not Lord of Day, Night and the Vast Abyss? Did I not rule through starry systems of systems? Yes, all this and more . . ."

But I felt a voice. Felt it, I say. Did you dream that empty space could smile? Did you imagine that intelligence could well up out of nothingness?

If you did you were right. Right if yet wrong. For there is no empty space. There is no infinite nothingness. My neighbor was at my side. At my side—may, with me, through me, myself.

He who had been chatting with me in the coach that is now a little inchoate heap of ashes, he suddenly said—and he said, focused as a serene face of living light:

"Sing," he said. And his voice was as the voice of multitudes or of a whispering wind. I instantly whirled around and faced him.

"Sing?" I murmured. "Sing? Yea, sing thou. But I—I shout, I cry, I agonize with the joy of this. O friend, my other self. How capst thou bear to calmly sing, when life demands and is so much?"

"Yea," said he, "sing: Oh Death, Where now is found thy sting? For though of breath bereft, With fire and motion left, The soul, the soul, Oh Death, Goes gaily on the wing."

And I, at this reminder of the flesh with its orderly thoughts and rhythms, deemed it well to become orderly and rhythmic. For indeed the peace leant, the face of that spirit flying along with mine through starry spaces calmed me and reminded me of my humanity.

To grate—to pulse—to spin—to fall—to sweep—to expand. Oh, Motion! I shall not again personify any force; and indeed thou art not a force, but myself. Motion, thou art Life. Life, thou art Motion.

Oh! Oh! Unceasingly. Oh! Oh! Joy! Infinite strength. Infinite capacity. Infinite life! Mine: myself! H. M. WILLIAMS.

PEOPLE.
 How beautiful people are. And the sky, and the stars—I believe that the stars are just people gone to rest. I want to be a star.

RECORD OF PEACE COMMISSION EXPENSE

President Submits Itemized Record in Asking for More Money for U. S. Delegation.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—President Wilson, asking Congress yesterday for $25,000 additional for expenses of the American Peace Commission in Paris from last July 1 to the end of this calendar year, said that in view of the 200 per cent increase in the cost of living as a result of the war, he considered the expenses of the American commission "very modest."

The President called attention to the fact that the action had been taken on the State Department's request for an additional appropriation of $5,000,000 for its current expenses, and said that as a result the department had found it necessary to draw on its emergency fund. He asked that the $25,000 appropriation be made.

Itemized List Submitted.
 The itemized list of expenses submitted by the President was as follows:

Expenses of the American commission to negotiate peace—expenses from Dec. 1, 1918, to June 30, 1919: Travel and subsistence, $15,843.43; subsistence, $144,214.93; salaries, $103,819.92; wages to employees of Hotel Grillon, $53,343.33.

Telegraph and cable service through the War Department, bills not yet received and amount not yet received, though the expense will be large.

Expenses of the commission from July 1, 1919, to July 30, 1919, exclusive of rent and telegraph service, $150,629.74; expenses of the commission from Aug. 1, 1919, to Aug. 31, 1919, exclusive of rent and telegraph service, estimated, $125,000; expenses of the commission from Sept. 1, 1919, to Dec. 31, 1919, estimated, for four months, $400,000.

CABRERA SAYS OIL INTERESTS ARE BACKING PROPOSED LAW

He Will Represent Government in Debate on Petroleum Constitution in Mexican Congress.

MEXICO CITY, Thursday, Aug. 28.—Luis Cabrera, Secretary of the Treasury, it was stated authoritatively today, will voice the views of the Executive Department of the Government during the coming debate on the petroleum constitution in the Mexican Congress. Sen. Cabrera was quoted today as declaring that the authors of the oil law presented yesterday in a report to the Senate were representatives of oil interests. This law eliminates the retroactive features which have been the chief point of objection to the oil law by foreign oil interests.

A statement was furnished the Associated Press tonight by Leon Salinas, Acting Secretary of Industry and Commerce, that his department has charge of petroleum matters, declaring that judging from press dispatches, recent statements by his department on the Government's stand in regard to the oil law presented yesterday in a report to the Senate were representatives of oil interests. This law eliminates the retroactive features which have been the chief point of objection to the oil law by foreign oil interests.

CARNEGIE'S $25,000,000 WILL PROBATED QUICKLY

Procedure That Usually Takes Several Weeks Is Completed in Half Hour.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Probate of Andrew Carnegie's will, disposing of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, was accomplished in the Surrogate's court in less than a half hour yesterday—a shorter time by several weeks than is required for probate of the average will.

Speedy completion of the court formalities was made possible by the action of Mr. Carnegie's widow and daughter, Margaret (Mrs. Howell) Miller, who waived all customary objections and consented to immediate action by the Surrogate.

Annuities to relatives include $10,000 to each nephew or niece who is married and $5000 to those who are single. Another clause reads: "To my dear sister-in-law, Stella, with love, $10,000, and to my dear brother-in-law, Harry Whitfield, or his wife succeeding $10,000."

The will provides that should an annuitant die leaving a widow or husband who was living at the time of the testator's death, the annuity shall continue to such survivor as long as he or she lives.

Gave Away $320,000,000.
 Having given away more than $320,000,000 during his lifetime, Carnegie died leaving a fortune of approximately $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The will disposes of $300,000 in public and charitable institutions and $300,000 to friends and relatives, including $10,000 each to former President Taft and Premier Lloyd George of England and $5000 each to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Thomas B. Stewart, widow of former President. Mrs. Preston was Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

Mrs. Carnegie, his widow, and his daughter, Margaret, were provided for during his lifetime. This is set forth in a clause of the will which reads:

"Having years ago made provision for my wife beyond her desires and ample to enable her to provide for our beloved daughter, Margaret, and being unable to judge at present what provision for our daughter will best promote her happiness, I leave to her mother the duty of providing for her as her mother seems best. A mother's love will be the best guide."

Makes Public Requests.
 Public requests include Cooper Union, New York, $60,000; Pittsburgh University, $200,000; Relief Fund of the American Red Cross, $100,000; Hampton Institute, Va., $200,000; Stevens Institute, Hoboken, N. J., $100,000; St. Andrews' Society of New York, $100,000.

Among the real estate works of art and household effects of the philanthropist are left to Mrs. Carnegie. The residue of the estate is left to the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The Home Trust Co. of New Jersey is named as executor and trustee under the will. The document is dated Feb. 13, 1912.

Sums ranging from $600 to $2000 are willed to household servants, the amount depending upon length of service. To Robert A. Frank, secretary to Carnegie, was bequeathed the house and grounds he now occupies at Llewellyn Park, Orange, N. J., and to a former butler, was left a pension equal to one-half his salary.

Provides Annuities.
 Among those who will receive annuities, which are to be paid semi-annually, are William Danforth of New York, $100,000; John D. Rockefeller, $100,000; John Morley of London and John Burns.

Other remembered with annuities are L. H. Church of Pittsburgh, Douglas Stewart and Mr. Beatty of the Herd Fund at Pittsburgh, Mrs. Stewart of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Woodward, president of the Carnegie Foundation.

The folk at Skibo, the Carnegie estate in Scotland, were not forgotten. The gamekeeper, footman, chauffeur, gardener and others are to be given $1000 each and every laborer who has served him two years or more will receive $50. A sum equal to two years' rent is to be remitted to each crofter as rent arrears.

"We are pleased with the people upon Skibo estate," Carnegie commented in his will, "and our factor is directed to grant a three year's rent to the crofters provided it is sent to their homes to their improvement."

Carnegie directed that should his wife survive him and should any bequests or directions of the will become ineffectual or invalid for any reason, his wife should receive absolutely any such property.

As a reason for this clause Carnegie said in his will: "It is my wish not to die intestate as to my part of my estate and I intend by this article to leave absolutely to my said wife all my property which . . . may not be otherwise lawfully given to the persons and corporations named and mentioned in the foregoing article."

The will stipulates that each of the legacies is given on the express condition that the beneficiaries should not take part in any legal proceedings having for their object the defeat of any part of the document.

Release for German Prisoners.
 PARIS, Aug. 28.—The French, British and Americans have reached an agreement by which the German prisoners held by the Americans and the British may be released immediately.

This will release 8000 American and British prisoners of war who are being held by the Germans and the French in the Rhine force of 1900 men.

The Business of Home Making

Every Club a Mother's Club.

By MRS. CHRISTINE FREDERICK,
Author "HOUSEHOLD ENGINEERING."

WITH fall comes the revival of the women's club season.

Probably no one agency has done so much good and broadened the lives of women as the club movement.

Meeting together, having common topics to discuss, having for women what the various trade and business conventions do for men—make them more interested and helped in their own business.

There is one topic which should appeal as a subject to every club, and that is the important group known as child welfare. "Every woman's club also a mother's club" would be a good slogan.

How much does your child weigh? Is there a weighing scale in your school? Do you have hot lunches in the school, served at cost? Is their play supervised? These are only some of the questions which every mother and club must ask itself.

If the club is composed of well-to-do mothers, then it is their responsibility to see that the children of less fortunate parents are cared for as well as their own.

The first step is to get the teachers to see the vital need for health teaching in each school. A large weight chart should be in each room, and the pupils allowed to mark their own weight on it each week. Children who are taught the harm of coffee, or fried foods, in school will take this training home with them, and apply it. As one child said, "Milk makes my line so high, and coffee doesn't." As he was anxious to weigh more, he stopped drinking coffee, and made his mother prepare cocoa for his breakfast.

In many rural schools the children have to walk a mile or more, and still cannot get a hot drink at school. If a number of mothers take steps together, this can be prevented. It is easy to have a large container of hot soup or cocoa made by different mothers, and served to the children at cost, even if a regular lunch cannot be supplied. Rural schools are often behind city ones, only because the mothers in the country do not get together.

I lectured recently at one beautiful small town, where they proudly showed me the attractions of the place. Among them was the large, well-equipped school. But I noticed that only a block away was a grade school. Another day the water had several times a day. I remarked this to them, and in some way they had never thought of this, in spite of several accidents each year. An active mothers' club finally had the grade raised by an arch.

ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS?

By IMOGENE BURCH.

Weather Prophecy.

IN the days before the Government took a hand at prophecy, every rural community boasted its own weather prophet.

A large part of this professed insight into the ways of nature was based on an observation of the moon. "It's goin' ter be a dry month," or "It's goin' ter be a wet one," the farmers would say after taking a careful scrutiny of the lady moon.

Not only do the farmers base much of their weather lore on lunar observations, but it is an old Indian saying that if you can hang your powder horn on the new moon, there will be a dry month ahead; if you can't, a wet one. Doubtless this superstition goes back to some primitive belief that rain comes from the moon. If the crescent were therefore tipped up enough to hold the powder horn on one point, it meant that the crescent would hold water too; otherwise the water would spill out.

It has always been a common belief that a ring around the moon portends bad weather, and it used to be further added that the number of stars visible inside of the moon ring indicated the number of days before the storm would come. There is a good deal of sense to this belief, of course, for the ring means that the atmosphere is thick and the fewer stars will be visible inside it—or anywhere else for that matter.

An ancient saw about the weather says that if you see a greenish blue sky on a cloudy day to make a pair of Dutchman's breeches it is going to clear up in short order. But there is a wide divergence of opinion as to whether this is a good omen or a bad one. A Dutchman's nether garment—one must have a profound knowledge of Dutch fashions to argue this point. It's true however, that a bit of blue sky will probably continue to bring promise of fair weather until the end of time.

THE ROOM WITH THE TASSELS

By CAROLYN WELLS,

Author of "The Bride of a Moment," "Faulkner's Folly," Etc.

CHAPTER XII (Continued).

"YES," agreed Hardwick, "and he seems to be a strange man. Listen: 'If I succeed in finding a true solution to the mystery, you may pay me whatever you deem the matter worth, if I do not party had aided her efforts, but Prof. there will be no charge of any sort. Except that I should wish to live in the house with you all, at Black Aspens. I know all of the affair that has been printed in the newspapers, and no more. If you are still in the dark, I should like prodigiously to get into the thick of it and will arrive as soon as you summon me.' There was more to the letter, but that was the gist of it, and Braye listened in silence.

"I think," he said, as the professor finished, that we don't want that detective poking into our affairs."

"I agree," said Landon. "There's been quite enough publicity about all this already, and I, for one, prefer to go back to New York and forget it as soon as we can."

"We can't forget it very soon, Wynne," put in Milly, "but I, too, want to go back to New York."

"We can't go right off," Braye told them; "we must wait a week or so, at least."

"Why?" asked Eve, not at all displeased by this statement, for she frankly admitted a desire to stay longer at Black Aspens.

"Oh, lots of reasons," Braye put her off. "But let's settle down for another week here, and then we'll see."

"Then I'm going to tell Wise to come up for that week," declared the professor. "I don't altogether adhere to my conviction as to supernatural powers, and I want to see what a big, really clever detective can dig up in the way of clues or evidence or whatever they work by."

"Oh, cut out Wise," urged Braye. "We don't want any more detectives than we are ourselves. Oh, Peter, it's pretty busy just now, too."

It was after the confab broke up that Milly went to Braye.

"Why don't you want Mr. Wise to come?" she asked, without preamble.

"Why, oh—why, just 'cause I don't," he stammered, in an embarrassed way.

"You can't fool me, Rudolph," she said, with an agonized look on her pretty face. "You are afraid he'll suspect Wynne—aren't you?"

"Don't, Milly," urged Braye, "don't say such things!"

"You are! I know from the way you try to put me off. Oh, Braye, he didn't do it! He hadn't any hand in any of the queer doings, had he, Rudolph? Tell me you know he hadn't!"

"Of course, Milly, of course."

"But listen, Rudolph, I heard some of the things that Peterson man said to you; I listened at the door, I couldn't help it."

"Milly! I'm ashamed of you!"

"I don't care! I'm not ashamed. But—I heard him say that he thinks Wynne is in league with Mr. Stebbins and that the two of them brought about all the mysterious doings."

"Hush, Milly! Don't let any one hear you! You mustn't breathe such things!"

"But he did say so, didn't he, Rudolph?"

"I won't tell you."

"I know he did. I heard him."

"Then forget it, as soon as you can. Trust me, Milly. I'll do all I can to keep suspicion from Wynne. But, do this, Milly. Use all your powers of persuasion with Prof. Hardwick, and make him give up his plan of getting that detective up here. Tell him, Rudolph, oh, of course I will! But what can I do, if the Professor has made up his mind? You know how determined he is."

"Get the girls to help. Don't breathe to them a word that you overheard Peterson say, but manage to make them do all they can to keep that detective off. If you all band together, you can do it. Wynne won't want him; I don't. I don't think Mr. Tracy will, and if you women are on our side, Hardwick will be only one against the rest of us, and we must win the day! Milly, that Wise must not come up here—do you value your peace of mind?"

"Oh, Rudolph, you frighten me so. I will do all I can, oh, I will!"

CHAPTER XIII.

Pennington Wise.

WHEN Mary Pennington married a man named Wise, it was not at all an unusual impulse that prompted her to name her first born son after her own family name, and so Pennington Wise came into being.

Then, of course, it followed, as the night the day, that his school chums should call him Penny Wise, which name stuck to him through life. Whether this significant name was the cause of his becoming a detective is not definitely known, but a detective he did grow up to be, and a good one, too. Eccentric, of course, what wonder while detective is not? But clear cut of brain, mind and intelligence. And always on the lookout for an interesting case, for he would engage in no others.

Wherefore, his persistence in desiring to investigate the strange mysteries of Black Aspens won the day against Milly's endeavor to prevent his coming. She had done all she could, and most of the house party had aided her efforts, but Prof. Hardwick had become imbued with the idea that there was human agency at work, and that his belief in spiritual visitation, honest though it had been, was doomed to a speedy death, unless further proof could be shown. Norma, too, was rather inclined to welcome a specialist in the solving of mysterious problems, and in conference with the professor agreed to do all she could to help the Wise man in his work.

Norma was still of the opinion that the two tragic deaths were the work of evil spirits, but if it were not so, she wanted to know it.

But the principal reason why Pennington Wise came to Black Aspens was his own determination to do so. He had never heard of such an unusual and weird mystery, and it whetted his curiosity by its strange and almost unbelievable details.
